STATUTORY AND REGULATORY BACKGROUND

15. Hazardous Waste: The State of California has enacted a comprehensive statutory and regulatory framework governing the generation, handling, treatment, storage, transportation, and disposal of hazardous waste known as the Hazardous Waste Control Law ("HWCL"). The HWCL, which is set forth in Division 20, Chapter 6.5 of the Health and Safety Code and its implementing regulations, mandates a "cradle to grave" system to record the generation, registration, tracking, storage, treatment, transportation and disposal of hazardous waste and to provide for the protection of the public and the environment from the potential risks posed by hazardous waste.

16. Medical Waste: The State of California also has enacted a comprehensive statutory framework to govern the management of medical waste. This framework is known as the Medical Waste Management Act ("MWMA"). The MWMA, which is set forth in Division 104, Part 14 of the Health and Safety Code, serves to protect the public and the environment and to limit exposure to pathological medical waste, specimens or tissues, objects containing or contaminated with human blood or bodily fluid, unusable medical products, expired medications, drugs and vaccines, sharps waste (i.e., needles and syringes), and other potentially infectious disease-causing agents and hazards. (Health & Saf. Code, § 117690, subd. (a).)

17. Hazardous Materials Business Plans: The Hazardous Materials Release Response Plans and Inventory Law ("HMRRPIL"), set forth in Health and Safety Code section 25500 et seq., requires businesses to implement and submit Hazardous Materials Business Plans, which are required by law in order to prevent or mitigate danger to public health, public safety, and the environment from the release of hazardous materials into the workplace and environment and to protect fire-fighters and other first responders in the event of a fire or release of hazardous materials.

18. Protected Health Information: The medical and personal identifying information of healthcare patients (protected health information or "PHI") are protected by various statutes and the regulations promulgated thereunder. These include:

- Confidentiality of Medical Information Act ("CMIA"), codified at Civil Code section 56 et seq., a comprehensive statutory framework that governs the management of medical information;
- Customer Records Law ("CRL"), Civil Code section 1798.81, which protects records containing personal information and requires businesses to make such records unreadable or undecipherable prior to disposal;
- Health and Safety Code sections 1280.15 and 1280.18, which require healthcare facilities to safeguard and prevent the unauthorized access of patient medical information; and
- The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-191, 110 Stat. 1938, as amended by the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act, Pub. L. No. 111-5, 123 Stat. 226, as well as the Department of Health and Human Services Regulations, 45 C.F.R. §§ 160 et seq. (collectively "HIPAA"), which sets forth requirements for the proper security and disposal of patient records containing confidential protected health information.

19. Unfair Competition: The Unfair Competition Law ("UCL"), Business and Professions Code section 17200 et seq., prohibits any unlawful, unfair, or fraudulent business act or practice, including but not limited to violations of any of the laws set forth above. The violation of any law—whether state or federal, statutory or regulatory—constitutes a violation of the UCL and subjects the violator to equitable relief, including an injunction, civil penalties and restitution, as applicable.

ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITY

20. The People's authority to petition for relief from this Court derives from multiple sources. Health and Safety Code section 25189 provides for civil liability for any negligent or intentional violation of the HWCL, or for any violation of any permit, rule, regulation, standard, or requirement issued or promulgated pursuant to the HWCL. Health and Safety Code section 25189.2 is an alternative strict liability provision, which provides for civil liability for any violation of the HWCL, or for any violation of any permit, rule, regulation, standard, or requirement issued or promulgated pursuant to the HWCL.

21. The HWCL also authorizes the Court to enjoin any ongoing or potential violation of the HWCL or any applicable rule, regulation, permit, standard, requirement, or order issued or promulgated pursuant to the HWCL. (See Health & Saf. Code, §§ 25182, 25145.4, 25181 and 25184.)

22. The MWMA authorizes an enforcement agency, including a district attorney, to bring an action to enjoin any violation of threatened violation of the law or the regulations promulgated thereunder. (See Health & Saf. Code, § 118325.)

23. The CMIA authorizes the Attorney General or a district attorney to bring an action in the name of the People to obtain civil penalties for any violation of the CMIA. (Civ. Code, § 56.36, subd. (f)(1).)

24. The UCL authorizes the Attorney General or a district attorney to bring a civil action in the name of the People against any person who engages in unfair competition, including any "unlawful…business act or practice." (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 17204.) Business and Professions Code section 17203 authorizes the Court to issue an order that enjoins any person who engages, has engaged or proposes to engage in unfair competition. Under Business and Professions Code section 17205, the remedies or penalties provided by the UCL are cumulative to each other and to the remedies or penalties available under all other laws of this state.
