RE: Jai Her CDC#: BB8115 Court Docket: 16FE019478

Board of Parole Hearing Members,

Inmate Her is a gun-carrying drug user, and should not be paroled. The circumstances surrounding his current conviction and his prior criminal record show that he poses an unreasonable risk of violence to the community.

For evidence of the risk to public safety posed by this inmate, look no further than his current offense, where he carried a loaded firearm into several citizens' backyards while high on methamphetamine. When officers initially confronted Inmate Her and demanded to see his hands, Inmate Her refused and attempted to flee by jumping over multiple fences. Inmate Her only stopped running when officers threatened to shoot Inmate Her if he did not stop.

This was not the first time he had illegally possessed a firearm. In fact, he had just been released from prison for a similar offense. Inmate Her's gun obsession is especially troubling given his connection to gang activity as he has previously been validated as a Junior Criminal Crip. In addition, he has no respect for the sanctity of citizens' homes as evidenced by his burglary conviction from 2006, where he and several accomplices ransacked a citizen's home looking for valuables. When he was released on that offense, he repeatedly violated parole, which further demonstrates his unwillingness to abide by rules when granted an early release.

As we are given 30 days to respond, and we are not provided with any disciplinary history or any other information aside from the one-page notice of parole review, I cannot comment on Inmate Her's prison conduct. However, from the record that is available it is clear that Inmate Her should not be released as he poses a significant, unreasonable risk of violence to the community. Parole should be denied.

Respectfully,
