Re: Murphy, Carl      CDC # BF4547      Court Docket: 17FE022882

Inmate Carl Murphy is a well-established violent felon and should not be paroled. The circumstances surrounding his conviction and his prior criminal records show that he poses an unreasonable risk of violence to the community.

 Murphy's history includes:

Year of Conviction	Crime	Crime Description	Sentence
1983	VC 10851	Take or drive a stolen car	90 days
1984	HS 11350	Possession of narcotics	90 days
1986	PC 148.9	Give false name to police	8 days
1987	PC 242 [This plead down from a felony PC 211 robbery]	Battery	38 days
1989	PC 602(L)	Destroying a fence	1 day
1991	PC 245(a)(2) [This plead down from a felony PC 664/187 attempted murder]	Assault with a firearm	5 years State Prison
1991	HS 11352	Transportation of narcotics	4 years State Prison
1995	VC 2800.2	Fleeing and eluding	32 months State Prison
1999	HS 11351	Possession of narcotics for sale	4 years State Prison

2006	U.S. 21 846	Conspiracy to sell drugs	131 months Federal Prison
2016	Federal Parole Violation		11 months Federal Prison
2018	HS 11351	Possession of narcotics for sale	7 year State Prison

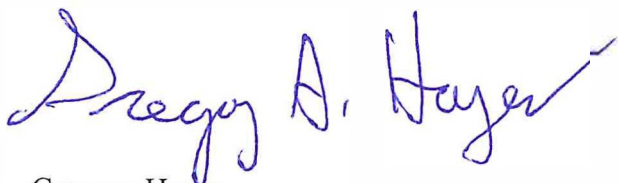

While Murphy's California strike is almost 30 years old, his subsequent history is one long string of prison sentences, supervision, new crimes committed, and returns to prison. A close look at his record shows there is more violence than his convictions alone represent. For example: [REDACTED] his strike was pled down to a PC 245(a)(2) from an attempted murder in the 1990s [REDACTED] he was arrested for robbery in the 1980s but pled to a misdo PC 242 battery.

In the present case the Defendant was dealing drugs despite his numerous and substantial prior prison commitments for dealing drugs. Additionally, in the present case, Defendant was armed with a firearm. Police located a 40 caliber handgun in the nightstand where Murphy was storing his cocaine, razor, scale, and baggies.

Over the past 30 years Murphy has shown no willingness to comply with the law. Additionally, he has shown a propensity for violence, being twice arrested for attempted murder, and multiple times being convicted of using violence on people. In the present case he armed himself with a firearm despite his violent history and despite being legally prohibited from possession a firearm due to his prior felony convictions. His willingness to continue to both use violence and to violate the law by possessing a firearm, demonstrates that he is a continual risk of violence to the community if released early.

As we are given 30 days to respond, and we are not provided with any disciplinary history or any other information aside from the one-page notice of parole review, I cannot comment on inmate Murphy's prison conduct. However, from the record that is available it is clear that inmate Murphy should not be released as he poses a significant, unreasonable risk of violence to the community. Parole should be denied.

Respectfully submitted,
